

Dear Fiona and the lucky beans

I write this letter to express my gratitude for letting me come to drakondale and to update you on how my experience at drakondale is going.

Being at Drakondale has been an exciting, tough and educational journey. I have enjoyed being at this school for the past 2 years. Being at the School of the Arts has educated me a lot about education, music, drama, dance and has taught me as a person about life. I have learnt how to deal with the pressure of having concerts and having to write tests, having to learn new songs, having to interact with people that you don't know but all I can say about is that has been fun and I wouldn't trade it for anything.

When I first came to drakondale I was very nervous that I wouldn't fit in but the drakondale family made me feel as one of and this really taught me to treat others with care and respect. I would like to thank you for making my dream of coming to this exciting place come true, with the experience I have I could be - come anything I want especially because I would like to go into the entertainment industry

Yours faithfully
